SUNDAY'S REFLECTION:

The Messiah Foretold

Today's story of the cure of a deaf man with a speech impediment is a good example of how much is contained in a simple miracle story. The Greek word mogilalos appears only here in all of the New Testament. It is a technical term referring to someone with a stammer. It is also used only once in the entire Jewish scriptures, in the passage that we read today as our first reading from Isaiah. Clearly, by his choice of this precise word Mark wants us to recognize that what Jesus is doing is the fulfillment of what Isaiah had predicted centuries earlier. In fact, Mark wants us to recognize that Jesus is the Messiah foretold by Isaiah and the other Jewish prophets of old.

The word ephphatha, "be opened," used to describe the restoration of the man's speech, is another example of a subtle allusion to an earlier prophecy. This time the prophecy in question is from Ezekiel, when he foretells that in the messianic age, "your mouth shall be opened to speak" (24:26). The sophistication of Mark's narrative is further revealed when we realize that there are multiple levels within a single reference. Mark not only draws our attention back to Israel's prophetic past, he also points to the initiatory practice of his contemporaries by his mention of such things as spittle, touching of ears, and the use of the word ephphatha, all of which were practices incorporated into the early Church's baptismal ritual.

“¡Que bien lo hace todo! Hace oír a los sordos y hablar a los mudos.”

Soy sordo, Señor cuando no oigo las necesidades de los demás, cuando no busco entender su punto de vista. Soy mudo cuando pronuncio palabras llenas de crítica...cuando no anuncio tu Palabra. Señor, oigo tus palabras hacia mí: “Ábrete”. Desbloquea mis oídos para que yo pueda oír tus palabras. Abre la puerta de mi corazón para que crezca mi sensibilidad ante el sufrimiento de los otros. Libera mi lengua, Señor, para que hable con gratitud de tu generosidad y tu misericordia. Amén.

KEEPING SUNDAY ~ ALL DAY

As we take time each week to celebrate the Paschal Mystery in the Eucharist and to rest from the burdens of our daily lives, we remind ourselves that we are made in the image and likeness of God who “rested on the seventh day from all the work he had undertaken” (Gn 2:2).

To celebrate the Lord’s Day more fully, consider trying the following:

- ◆ Don’t use Sunday as your catch-all day for errands and household chores.
- ◆ Share a family meal after Mass. Have the whole family join in the preparation and cleanup.
- ◆ Go for a walk or bike ride and give thanks to God for the beauty of nature.
- ◆ Spend time reading the Bible or a spiritual book.
- ◆ Pray the Rosary or the Liturgy of the Hours, alone or with others.
- ◆ Visit parishioners and others who are homebound.
- ◆ Read Bible stories to your children.
- ◆ Turn off your gadgets and enjoy the silence.
